Example

This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class A	$582	$885	$1,210	$2,126
Class C	$258	$536	$ 980	$2,358
Class S	$ 87	$271	$ 493	$1,187

You would pay the following expenses if you did not redeem your Class C shares:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class C	$173	$536	$980	$2,358

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund’s portfolio turnover rate was 141% of the average value of the portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund uses a valuation methodology to identify securities ICON believes are underpriced relative to value. It normally invests at least 80% of its net assets, plus any borrowings for investment purposes, in a broad range of U.S. dollar-denominated bonds. These include corporate bonds, notes and debentures, as well as U.S. government and agency securities. This strategy may not be changed unless Fund shareholders are given at least 60 days’ prior notice. The Fund generally invests in investment-grade securities, although the Fund may invest up to 35% of its assets in securities with a lower rating by both S&P and Moodys. There is no limit on the Fund’s average maturity or on the maturity of any individual issues in the Fund.

Principal Investment Risks

Like all investments in securities, you risk losing money by investing in the Fund. The main risks of investing in this Fund are:

- Interest Rate Risk. Bond prices tend to move inversely with changes in interest rates. For example, when interest rates rise, bond prices generally fall. Securities with longer maturities are more sensitive to changes in interest rates. Performance could also be affected if unexpected interest rate trends cause the Fund’s mortgage or asset-backed securities to be paid off substantially earlier or later than expected. Slower payoffs effectively increase maturity, also heightening interest rate risk. When interest rates fall, many mortgages are refinanced and mortgage-backed securities may be repaid early. As a result, the Fund may not experience the increase in market value from these securities that normally accompanies a decline in interest rates.
- Credit Risk. The Fund could lose money if the issuer of a security is unable to meet its financial obligations or goes bankrupt. Failure of an issuer to make timely payments of principal and interest or a decline or perception of decline in the credit quality of a bond can cause a bond’s price to fall, potentially affecting the Fund’s share price.

- Changes in Debt Ratings. If a rating agency gives a debt security a lower rating, the value of the security may decline because investors may demand a higher rate of return.
- High Yield Risk. The Fund may invest in high yield securities (commonly known as “junk bonds”) which may be subject to greater levels of interest rate, credit and liquidity risk than investment grade securities. These securities may be considered speculative with respect to the issuer’s continuing ability to make principal and interest payments. An economic downturn or period of rising interest rates could adversely affect the market for junk bonds and reduce the Fund’s ability to sell these securities (liquidity risk). If the issuer of a security is in default with respect to interest or principal payments, the Fund may lose its investment in the issue.
- Liquidity Risk. Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell. The Fund’s investment in less liquid securities may reduce the Fund’s returns because it may be unable to sell the less liquid security at an advantageous time or price.
- Call Risk. Some debt securities allow the issuer to repay the obligation early; these are referred to as “callable securities.” Issuers will often repay the obligation underlying a callable security when interest rates are low. To the extent that the Fund holds callable securities and the issuer repays the securities early, the Fund may not benefit fully from the increase in value that other debt securities experience when rates decline. In addition, the Fund likely would have to reinvest the proceeds of the payoff at current yields, which will likely be lower than those paid by the callable security that was paid off.
- Government Agency Securities Risk. Securities issued by U.S. government agencies or government-sponsored enterprises may not be guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Government National Mortgage Association (“Ginnie Mae”) is authorized to guarantee, with the full faith and credit of the U.S. government, the timely payment of principal and interest on securities issued by institutions approved by Ginnie Mae and backed by pools of mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Department of Veteran Affairs. Government-related guarantors are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government and include the Federal National Mortgage Association (“Fannie Mae”) and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (“Freddie Mac”). Pass-through securities issued by Fannie Mae are guaranteed as to timely payment of principal and interest by Fannie Mae, but are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. Freddie Mac guarantees the timely payment of interest and ultimate collection of principal, but its participation certificates are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government.

- Industry and Concentration Risk. Companies that have similar lines of business are grouped together in broad categories called industries. Certain industries are grouped together in broad categories called sectors. The Fund may overweight industries within various sectors and may invest up to 25% of the Fund's total assets in a single industry. The fact that the Fund may overweight a specific industry or industries may cause the Fund's performance to be more susceptible to political, economic, business or other developments that affect those industries or sectors. This overweighting means the Fund may be less diverse and more volatile than its benchmark.
- Portfolio Turnover Risk. The Fund is an actively managed mutual fund that buys and sells securities using a value-based quantitative methodology. ICON regularly evaluates the securities in its portfolio and rebalances the portfolio based on the value of the securities, industries, sectors and countries held by the Fund. Trading necessarily follows ICON's active management style. Rebalancing the portfolio may require actively trading the Fund's securities, which can lead to a Fund composition that deviates considerably from the Fund's benchmark. Moreover, while ICON hopes its investors purchase for the long term, shareholders buy and sell securities and mutual funds for various reasons, which generally requires the Portfolio Manager to make buy and sell decisions daily, and thus to trade. Active trading generates transaction costs which, in turn, can affect performance. A portfolio with higher turnover may thus underperform a comparable portfolio with a lower turnover rate, if the Portfolio Manager's decisions to trade based on value is not realized by the market.
- Market Risk. The Fund's overall risk level will depend on the market sectors in which the Fund is invested and the current interest rate, liquidity conditions, and credit quality of such sectors. The market also may fail to recognize the intrinsic worth of an investment or ICON may misgauge that worth.
